How?

This course is designed to give adults the opportunity to begin to really understand the root cause of their child's behavior as well as their role in it. Based on experiential activities that reach the heart to inspire deeper understanding and change, with role-play and group discussions really adding to the depth of the learning. This is an extremely powerful experience for participants. Parents love the 'Parents Helping Parents Problem-Solving Steps' because this process provides a fun and effective way for them to get specific help with real problems.

Upon your arrival, you will receive:

- _ manual Teaching Parenting the Positive Discipline Way
- _ book "Positive Discipline" (by Jane Nelsen)
- _ Positive Discipline tool cards

Whatelse?

Designed for parent educators, teachers, therapists, childcare professionals and others who want an effective discipline approach. This method is based on Adlerian Psychology and integrates social and emotional learning while reducing challenging behaviors. Successful participants will earn recognition as a Certified Positive Discipline Parent Educator and will:

- _ Learn research based and effective tools and techniques for teaching parents how to use discipline that is kind and firm at the same time (non-punitive, non-permissive)
- _ Learn how to facilitate a parent class from the position of a non-expert and gain practice with experiential exercises that help parents go beyond intellectual understanding to be able to respond in empowering ways that teach children.
- _ Learn how to use materials and activities in group settings, parenting classes and individual work with families.

Teaching Parenting
the Positive Discipline

Way (developed by Lynn Lott and Jane Nelsen) is a research-based parent education program that provides a step-by-step approach to starting and leading experientially based parenting groups. This program stands alone or offers significant enhancement to any program. It provides experiential activities that reach the heart to inspire deeper understanding and change. Participants in this workshop will:

1. Learn research based effective tools and techniques for teaching parents how to use discipline that is kind and firm at the same time (non-punitive, non-permissive).
2. Learn how to facilitate a parent class from the position of a non-expert.
3. Gain practice with experiential exercises that help parents go beyond intellectual understanding to be able to respond in empowering ways that teach children.
4. Learn how to use materials and activities in group settings, parenting classes and individual work with families.

ABOUT THE TRAINER:

Fernanda Lee, M.A.Ed, is a lead trainer in Positive Discipline, serving parents, health professionals, teachers, early childhood educators, couples, and professionals in the workplace in the United States, Brazil, Portugal and Luxembourg.

She holds a degree in business administration and worked for Accenture, Bank of America and other investment brokers, until she became a mother. She also holds a Master Degree in Education, with Pupil Personnel Services credential, and has served as a school counselor in elementary and middle public schools.

Fernanda was featured in two national magazines "Escola" and "English as a Foreign Language" discussing the practical application of Positive Discipline in the classroom. She is very thankful to be raising her two teenagers with Positive Discipline, as without it she would have pulled out all her hair.
